Lessons from Toilet School:

A Family Centered Approach to Toilet Training

by Ann Coleman Stadler, DNP, RN, CPNP & Claudia Quigg, MEd

ISBN 978-0-9909921-9-6 • Perfect bound trade paperback • 6" x 9" • © 2017
168 pages • publication date: March 2017

Every parent raising a young child eventually asks this question: Is my child ready for toilet training? Lessons from Toilet School: A Family-Centered Approach to Toilet Training helps families address this question by looking for signs of readiness in the child.

This book recognizes those signs of readiness, but it also explores the bigger picture of your family's experience. How will toilet training your child fit into the life of your busy family? How might it impact relationships? What special considerations will you need to make for your own unique child? Overall, how can you create a plan that makes sense for your child and your family?

Order by sending a check for $16.00 plus $2.50 for shipping and handling. Illinois residents add $1.08 sales tax per book. Make your check out to Bronze Man Books.
